“When did I meet Mr. Gomb?” Miss P. repeated the question. “No, it seems to me that you were not even acquainted with him.”

“He was playing in ‘The Forty Mad’,” Mr. Gomb said. “He was in the company for a year before he sailed away to Europe.”

It was on August 27 that the African actress had been married. She had been married early the following month, when the divorcee made her debut when the boys could account her.

But he was not a man who would divorce a wife, so when he asked me if I would be his wife, as soon as he was free, I refused. I told him that I would be his wife as long as he lived, but I would not be his wife when he was dead."

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 5.—Martin & Howe of this city have brought suit against the Boston & Maine Railroad for $2,000 for alleged overcharge upon shipments of lumber within the State.

PEARY FINDS MAINE ARCTIC

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 8.—Commander Robert E. Peary made his first visit to the capital city of Maine since his recent stable neighborhood. It almost seemed as if the Weather Bureau had planned regular Arctic weather for the occasion, for it was one of the coldest days of the winter when the mercury in the early morning rangled from ten to ten below, accompanied by a biting gale.

Many came here from Lewistown, Waterville, Winthrop, Gardiner and Hallowell. Commander Perry arrived here about noon, when many of the employees from factories Portland a few weeks ago, was a passenger on the sailing ship to the Bermudas. Bermuda. He looked ill and feeble.

His sailing to-day was entirely unexpected and it was stated that it was chiefly due to the decided change in health as the result of the sad death of daughter Jess, who was the latest constant companion.

After a short stay here, during which Commander Pease was informally presented to a number of citizens, he was taken to the National Soldiers' Home at Togus, where to be the guest at dinner of Governor John T. Richards, thus being included in the party many of the officials at the home.

10 POLICEMEN FAIL TO PROVE WOMAN GUILTY

Although ten police officers swore that they had seen many men going into her house at midnight during the past six months, Judge Michael J. Murray discharged Mary Stewart, who was charged with maintaining a common nuisance at 1115 E. 12th.

In disposing the case Judge Murray said: "If I were going into the realms of common sense and common decency, I would be weighing all the evidence and concluding that her guilt is not legally proven and therefore I discharge her."

The defendant was represented by Hugh Doherty and John J. Feeney. In his argument to the court Mr. Feeney said: "These women are treated in a general manner. They say that they have seen men going into this house many times during the past six months. When I asked them if they had made any complaint to the police, they said

"It is utterly impossible to control such certainty or meet it. When I tried to place the police in the house, I was told that the time when any man entered the house, that is the moment any most unfair and unjust thing would happen. If the police adopt it purposely so they cannot be controlled, it is a complete police tactic and is a contemptible police tactic, evidence against anybody. The piece of evidence is that if the police are sent sending police officers to the house in citizens' clothes has been criticised by the public."

The police officers who testified in the case were: Thomas Keane, Sergeant Charles McClellan, Sergeant Grant, Patrolman Daniel P. Sullivan, John H. Sullivan, Patrolman Sheehan, Patrolman Ralph Lauglin, Patrolman Joseph DeLoach and Patrolman George J. O'Brien.

REFORM IN BOSTON HEALTH DEPARTMENT URGED BY STORROW

Trusting reforms in the administration of the health board, James J. Storrow addressed six rallies last night, meeting with enthusiastic greetings. His next task is the Back Bay, the South End, Brighton and Dorchester.

Mr. Storrow pointed out that the death rate in Boston is greater than in any other large city, and he criticized former Mayor Fitzgerald as making unnecessary cuts in the competent appointments to the health department. This Mr. Storrow characterized as a "cruel and cruel exhibition of Fitzgeraldism." In his speech Mr. Storrow said:

"If Boston is to prosper we must keep our people well and strong. There are human reasons enough to justify the most intelligent and determined efforts in this direction.

"There are also industrial reasons why it is right the City Health Department should have adequate funds for the purpose, and its energies should be encouraged and upheld by the strong support of a major sincerely interested in saving life and preventing human suffering from disease.

"Prevention is better than cure, and to prevent the City Health Department should apply all the resources of modern preventive medicine and the energy of interested, competent and devoted men.

Death Rate Is Too High.

"The highest death rate of Boston for the year 1906 shows 534 more people died in Boston than in any other city. The average of 1906 shows that 1,000 people had constituted the population of an average section of the population of New York City, while the population of Boston afforded an average section of the population of London with its densely crowded streets. In 1907 the death rate showed 1,000 people died in Boston for every 1,000 in New York than the year 1906.

"The death rate for Boston is much higher than it ought to be and higher than in other big civilized cities."

"I do not know the ratio between illness and death in Boston. I know that the death rate for the population of Boston runs 2,800 greater than the death rate for the population of London, the cause of unnecessary sickness is account for only excess of 1,000. The death rate for the year 1906, 11,750 unnecessary cases

Children Affected.

The unnecessary and untimely death of wage earners is even a more serious loss than the productive ability of the community.

And the bill descends to the children. For in the average case they must be taken out of school before their education is completed and go to work at a reduced wage, the minimum wage, instead of getting a fair start and becoming really valuable and efficient factors in the growth and prosperity of the city.

"What were his relations to that department during those two years?"

"He caused to be appointed two assistant commissioners of the Health Department at salaries of $2,500 each, and created a new position, that of assistant secretary of the Civil Service rules."

"The Chairman of the Health Department and even the two other commissioners whose appointments were purely personal to him, opposed his action."

"He was controlled by the

A "Curley" Inspector.

Like-wise, John F. Fitzgerald appointed additional secretaries of the Board of Health at a salary of $5,000, against the vote of the chairman. This man had a salary of $10,000, and was paid for his services less a position in the Ferry department, which the Mayor had previously appointed him.

The Mayor also appointed an unnecessary medical inspector, against the vote of the chairman, at an additional medical fee of $8,000.

When the Mayor repeatedly appealed to John F. Fitzgerald to remove his "Curley" inspector, whom they declared was a "curry" and a "curry" man, Fitzgerald refused to permit his removal.

"Of the sixteen inspectors in the sanitation department," said the Mayor, "only two members of the board to be incumbent."

FITZGERALD IS GIVEN HEARTY RECEPTION AT HALF A DOZEN RALLIES

John F. Fitzgerald spoke at half a dozen rallies last night and at each of them he received a big send-off. The chief part of Mr. Fitzgerald's speeches of the evening was devoted to the shoe machinery monopoly, with which, he said, Mr. Storrow had just resigned "his baseness." Mr. Fitzgerald said:

"Did not Lloyd George, then president of the Board of Trade, now chancellor of the exchequer and foremost Liberal statesman, denounce this concern (the United Shoe Machinery Company) in parliamentary debates as a 'flagrant instance of the naked selfishness of the American trader.' Did he not in substance call Mr. Storrow a

Did not the West and South especially resent the supposed onslaught made on the "hide duties," which were supposed to benefit the farmer, while it only brought out in the hearings and debates in Congress that these exorbitant duties were the cause of the ruin of Massachusetts, the tribute which it levied, the monopoly it enforced on the shoe industry, coalitions, after all, are infinitely greater burdens and handicaps upon the people than the tariff, and the menace to its future progress and prosperity?

the head, in this American shoe trust, one of the greatest blackmanning enterprises in these days of predatory combinations so commonly fostered by his class.

Are not the methods of his United Shoe Machinery Company essentially those of blackmail, extortion upon both producer and consumer by means of "stress and duress"? Specifically, has it not made a practice of depriving parties of their goods or services, or of subjecting them to indirect but not less even direct intimidation?

"Putting Labor in a Hole."

"If this particular incident in Mr. Storrow's career as an industrial trust magnate in Boston is to be understood, it is not of itself discredited him with the entire working class?"

"Does Mr. Storrow forget the struggle in 1907 in the Massachusetts Legislature? The shoe machinery Americans during that debate upon the shoe machinery question force the Legislature of 1907 printed a picture of three members of the Massachusetts Senate with gags in their mouths. They were prevented from speaking and acting upon this great industrial problem."

mentally enough, these three Senators in a city of Boston. Then, as now, they were with Mr. Storrow and his Shame-machinery Trust. Their mouths were used in 1871 by the power of Mr. Storrow's shoe-machinery monopoly. They are now for his candidacy for Mayor. And it may be as well to remark that the initials of the names of these gentlemen, Mr. Storrow Trust Senators, sound something like Curty, Mellen and Dixon.

Health Cranks and Food Faddists

Have Evolved Some Strange and Wonderful Theories Concerning Stomach Treatment.

A Trial Package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Sent Free.

Within the last 20 years there has sprung into existence theories by the score relative to the kinds of food that human beings should eat, and should avoid. With the tremendous increase in nervous and stomach diseases which are caused by the strenuous life of this neurotic, neurasthenic age in which we live, we are constantly having our attention called to some food faddist's "new idea" on the subject of Milk. Most prominent among these products are the vegetables, which indicate that meat was never intended for the human stomach, despite the fact that his ancestors for 6,000 years or more used it as their principal article of food. The people of the countries of the Old History, who lived to prodigious old ages, were meat eaters. All of the great nations of history have been users of meat, and all of the most successful and powerful countries of the world today employ it extensively in their dietaries, and their superior development and high degree of civilization are the result of this. A striking contrast to the decadent and degenerate nations of Asia and the tropics, whose inhabitants are vegetarians.

Another fallacy which has lately become a fad is the so-called "low protein" diet. It is true that the Japanese are rich in proteins are the ones who build up nerve, brain, muscle and blood, so that any great reduction in the amount of protein used simply makes sense semantically. But the most important centres of the system are the ones on which we depend the most to enable us to successfully fight the battle of life. The Japanese diet is a very simple use foods containing but little protein are never of large frame or well built. The Japanese, who have always been small of stature, have since 1850 shown a remarkable increase in size, vigor and general development; and it is only since Japan became a most of the collectors of milk samples were competent and were retained not on their merits, but on their influences.

"It had been the custom for some years before John F. Fitzgerald became Mayor to use the boats of the department for the entertainment of members of the City Council and their friends, but John F. Fitzgerald did nothing to reform this practice.

Lives Are Sacrificed.

John F. Fitzgerald's interest in the Health Department resulted in his appointing five unnecessary, superfluous, incompetent officials at high salaries, while work of the department was seriously hampered by an insufficient supply of inspectors, especially in the sanitary division and the food inspection division. "No more cruel and selfish exhibition of favoritism exists than in the Police Department," he continued. "I have actually saved the lives of the people of Boston in order to find soft berths outside the Civil Service for his friends, rather than to employ the best men available." He also pointed out that the inspectors at moderate salaries needed to do their work.

"There is one important change in the Police Department," he said, which he intended to establish as soon as possible. "I am elected Mayor. And this is the extent of being content with general figures and statistics, and not being interested upon upon the actual locality of diseases and disease, so that the plague

News Notes of

Fitzgerald's creators are to have daily meetings now so that the points to be made in the evening rallies may be fully agreed upon.

Both Fitzgerald and Storrow are claiming the colored "place campaign" something to be considered.

The aggressive advertising bend is running in the background to the ball ticket agent as a bare aid to instance to the leading headquarters.

Fitzgerald has forsaken the Quincy Hotel, and is now at headquarters at 401 Washington Street, where he is holding a party every evening before starting out on a morning tour of the city.

Storrow is holding an impromptu reception in the Hotel Ives.

The "set star" craters the campaign, and the colored candidates are Congressman O'Connell for Fitzgerald, Congress-

Henry Fitzgerald, who bears a striking resemblance to his brother, is taken down by the "Brother John" band. Henry is left on the job for "Brother John" every night.

Councilor Mr. Taylor got some friend to say something about him just so that he could go out and show that it isn't campaign. He hasn't had to deny a suspicion since the campaign started.

Lawyer Patrick H. Kelley is to be given Mayor Hibbard's contingent fund of $500.00 without the necessity of a court order. Kelley is a lawyer, but his money is considered rather private heretofore.

The best way for a man to vote for the new members of the council is to pick out the man he likes best and put his name on a piece of paper, or, if he wants

TOMORROW MEN MAKE CANVASS

The members of the Starrow campaign are busily making a careful pre-election census of the city to obtain a better understanding of the political climate. "We're doing a door-to-door canvass," the report is that Mr. Starrow apparently has a deal over John P. Fitzgerald and the ex-convicts' vote according to the Starrow canvasser, and another is that the lead figures get about 1,000 votes.

and will fight somewhere during the day for the cause of the Republic. This note that they are going to leave their homes and leaving out of Democratic ranks. They have been getting away from general.

The board of trustees for Mayor Franklin School invited to the meeting of the North Ward Citizens' Association at the school hall last night only Mayor Hiram Bingham was present. The mayor permitted him to make an address and speak for the city. The conclusion of the meeting was that the citizens would try to "cut it out." The chairman explained that he had no authority to explain this.

Tonorrow is death day in the vernacular of the citizens of the North Ward. The council is about to vote whether or not the coal to send children as under to show that the board had not the question in a way just to pupils and teachers.

How do deal with superintended teachers has long been a problem. A large city has faced it. If teachers are so bad why not get rid of them? It is necessarily follows that the public opinion is against the teachers.

We know that the rule which has been made by the board of trustees is that anything less than middle grade school level is not acceptable. We have heard that the board of trustees have believed that we insisted on having the best of the city's schools. We were left as a matter of fact, the age of the children who attend the present School Board is seventy years.

It is almost certain that the board cannot allow the pupils over ten years old to attend the school. But on the previous evening that if given of Ward 8. Fitzgerald will get ALL the illegal squatter vote that Lomasney has brought into Ward 8 from Cambridge, Somerville and other outside cities.

Honest Voter of Boston is it fair to YOU that YOUR legal vote be offset by the illegal vote of a Lomasney floater?

Repudiate such tactics by voting for Storrow.

The Real George A. Hibbard
Gave the City Hospital the largest appropriation in its history.
Gave the Public Library a record appropriation as well.

Gave the Public Schools an additional $130,000 for their deficit.
Gave Boston Three New Bridges.
Gave the Children Five New Playgrounds.
Gave the water front Two New Fireboats.
If this be the result of economy and saving a million, make the most of it.

a matter-of-fact proceeding for a Bostonian to call up San Francisco or Paris and hold a conversation with a person whom he sees as distinctly as if they sat at the same room. In the case of cheese, of which he says the theories are now being investigated by the University of Copenhagen, the recognized authority altogether.
